MEXICAN PENSION BILL.

ITS PASSAGE IN THE SENATE WITH OTHER IMPORTANT BILLS.

The Senate Committee on the Payne Case Still Considering That Matter. The President Pardons R. Porter Lee. Introduction of Bills in the House.

WASHINGTON, July 13.—The Sherman introduced by request a bill to stop all payments of public money to James R. Eals for any present and future work at the mouth of the Mississippi river until further ordered by congress. Referred.

Resuming work on the calendar, the senate passed the following bills:

To prevent obstructive and injurious deposits in the New York harbor; the bill to credit the state of Oregon with $12,366 for ordnance and ordnance stores, and the house bill granting pensions to the soldiers and sailors of the Mexican war.

As amended and passed the bill directs the secretary of the interior to place on the pension roll the names of the surviving officers and enlisted men, including marines, militia, and volunteers, who, being duly enlisted, actually served six days with the army or navy of the United States in Mexico, or on the coast or frontier thereof, or anywhere, in the war with that nation, or who were actually engaged in a battle in said war and were honorably discharged, and their surviving widows, provided that such widows have not remarried, and provided that each widow be not more than sixty years of age, or who is or may become subject to any disability or dependency equivalent to some cause recognized by the sufficient laws of the United States for the allowance of a pension shall be entitled to the benefit of the act; except where such widow or dependency was incurred in adding or settling lands, or the like, or the pensioners are to be $8 a month payable only after the passage of the act. The law is to apply to the pensioners in the United States or at that time, entitled under this law are already receiving pensions less than $8 a month, the pension shall only be for the difference up to $8 a month.

Pay for Capturing Sitting Bull. WASHINGTON, July 13.—Secretary Bayard has sent to speaker Carlisle a communication from Sir Lionel West, British minister to the United States concerning the claim of Jean Louis Legare, for compensation for services and money expended, as is alleged, in bringing into the United States the procedure for the surrender of Sitting Bull and his followers, under the direction of the war department.

The claim is for $13,413, and is now before the house in the form of a bill introduced by Legare, as his petition states that he is a resident of the Wood mountains in the northwestern territories of Canada; that he is an Indian trader, and that during the winter of 1885 then having occasion to be at Fort Buford, Dak., he met Maj. Brotherton, then assistant adjutant general, and was by him placed in the hands of the military authorities.

The petitioner entered into an agreement to assist in the capture of Sitting Bull and his followers. In this work he was engaged from May, 1885, until some time in September following, neglecting his business and expending considerable money. He finally succeeded in securing the surrender of the Indians, numbering 335, and thinks he should be paid the sum named for it.

Declines to Pardon a Pension Attorney. WASHINGTON, July 13.—The president has declined to pardon an attorney, a Kansas pension attorney, who was convicted of receiving $600 from a pensioner for procuring his pension when the law only allows $10 for such services. The president says this is a crime of serious character and that he will make it a business to procure pensions for a character to live all the rest of his life, and when guilty all the punishment they receive. The pardon was recommended by the attorney general.

Approved Two Bills. WASHINGTON, July 13.—The president has approved the bill to tax railroad construction, and the bill to tax railroad land grants.

SWEPT BY A TEMPEST. Devastation Caused by a Short and Furious Gale.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., July 13.—The heavy storm which broke loose at midnight between St. Louis and Nashville reached here with terrific force, and for a time blew at the rate of seventy miles an hour. The wind was preceded by a light drizzle of rain, and then burst forth with astonishing suddenness, tearing up trees, blowing down chimneys, and toppling the roof of the Burn's block, while the wooden trap leading to the roof was blown so far away that it could not afterward be found.

Time of the large glass panes in the signal service office on the fourth floor, were badly shattered, and were ruthlessly flying in every direction.

The edge of the storm struck the north portion of the state capitol, cutting a window pane out as clean as if it had been glass, but otherwise not damaging the edifice.

It swept down with terrific force on and across the lawn of the mansion of Governor James K. Polk and threatened the demolition of the monument of the deceased governor, which stands on the lawn. It was a four-story, stood in her front window and witnessed the storm with great trepidation. She had the monument should either fall before the wind or be blown down by the trees. When the worst of the storm was over she expressed great joy that the tomb had been spared.

In the track of the tempest great damage was done. Trees were blown hither and yonder, for a time blocking the streets. Sheets of water fell, striking the houses and impeding all travel. Pieces of tin roof were sent whirling along cherry street, striking the Berry block with great violence.

Part of the roof of the DuPont glass panes, on Front street, was blown away. The gale and of McCallister's warehouse, corner of Broad and College streets, was blown off, demolishing a wagon on the street.

Three stables were first and destroyed by lightning. All communications were lost by the storm, and the telegraph wires were broken. The breaks will be repaired at once.

WHY GLADSTONE FAILED.

MR. HENRY LABOUCHE INTERVIEWED ON THE SITUATION.

Confident That Gladstone Will Resign. Long Time Before the Irish Question is Settled. Duke's Opinion of America's Sympathy For Ireland.

LONDON, July 13.—Mr. Henry Labouchere in an interview said: "I am confident that Mr. Gladstone will resign, and that the Conservative will take office, what they will do after that remains to be seen, but any coalition of Tories and Unionists is impossible. Why, such an alliance would not last twenty minutes. Mr. Chamberlain and his party don't count. The only members of that faction worth considering are Mr. Chamberlain himself and Mr. Cairnes."

"Mr. Gladstone's defeat at the polls arises from the failure of the premier to make the land bill clear, the Radicalism having won the favor of the landlords. Their three acres and the cow sheds haven't done us good. They might better have talked of half an acre and a calf; the laborer would understand that."

"I don't think the Tories will adopt a policy of non-resistance. The Tories intend to settle the Irish question, but rather to keep it open. The Tories have used Mr. Chamberlain from first to last, but he doesn't see it, and they'll throw him overboard when it suits their purpose. It will be a long time before the Irish question is settled. It will be impossible for the next parliament to do anything with it. The country knows nothing of the question and must be educated to it. When they are educated Mr. Gladstone will win hands down, because the people to the importance and justice of this question, is the great work of the Radicals in the humblest fashion."

The Duke of Argyll's Letter. LONDON, July 13.—The Duke of Argyll has written a letter to the Times regarding America and Ireland, in which he says that, despite the existence of great national sympathies, the people of Ireland are ignorant of the facts, both in England and America concerning their respective constitutions. He admits his own ignorance in this direction at the beginning of the American war in sympathizing with the South. The duke thinks that the warm sympathy of America for Ireland arises from the error of thinking of Ireland as being in the same relative position as an American state, and holding to the opinion that England withholds from her similar powers to those which she grants to her colonies.

Nothing he says could be more erroneous. Referring to the right of the American states to share in the powers of congress, and the checks and balances of government which each allows, the duke says that Mr. Gladstone's proposal violates both of these principles, and even under such a constitution, there would be employment for all on account of the company's business having greatly fallen off in consequence of the long continued strike.

TANNERS' STRIKE.

Leather Manufacturers Meeting Friday Night. News of a Week's Work.

LEATHER, Mass., July 13.—The strike was inaugurated among the tanners of Peabody and Salem, this morning, for fifty-nine hours, by the tanners and their assistants, and the action taken this morning was decided upon. Last Friday evening the leather manufacturers met in the town house and decided to oppose the fifty-nine-hour movement, and it is agreed to stand together in opposition to the movement.

This morning when the 6 o'clock whistle for the laborers of the day in the tanneries to begin, no one responded, and it was the same when the ten o'clock whistle blew. When the 7 o'clock whistle sounded nearly all the tanners began work.

On Foster street there was one exception, the men being told that there would be no working done, but this place will probably be in full operation to-morrow. On Grove street, and at the tannery of J. W. Webster, the men went in at 7 instead of 6 o'clock, but were ordered out by the proprietor, and are now locked out.

In Salem there are lookouts at the tanneries of James Dugan on Main street; P. D. Egan, of Goodhue street; James Kelly & Sons, also of Goodhue street, and several other places, and it is said that these firms hold out that all the boys tanners will join them in a general lockout.

W. E. Rogers, J. A. Lard, Jr., Webster & Co. and one or two others have been running on the 7 o'clock plan for some time. In the carrying shops the leather splitters are all out, or will be before the day is out, on strike for either piece work or for wages for week based upon piece work prices. All the Peabody tanneries are running except the exception of the two above mentioned.

A RIOT EXPECTED. The Condition of Affairs at the Grape Creek Coal Mines.

GRAPE CREEK, Ill., July 13.—There is every prospect of a riot over the importation of negroes by the Illinois Central to take the place of the striking miners. The strikers declare that the new men cannot work under any circumstances and that they will resist force with force. The sheriff of Vermilion county has forty special deputies on the ground and will do all in his power to maintain order if the negroes conclude to go to work.

To most children the bare suggestion of a dose of castor oil is nauseating. Why not, then, when physic is necessary for the little ones, use Ayer's Cathartic Pills. They combine every essential and valuable principle of a cathartic medicine, and being sugar-coated are easily taken.

ALMOST every person has some form of scrofulous poison latent in his veins. When this poison develops in scrofulous sores, ulcers, or eruptions, rheumatism or organic diseases, the suffering is terrible. Hence the gratitude of those who discover that Ayer's Sarsaparilla will eradicate this evil.

Charter Revoked.
Local Assembly No. 3,363, Knights of Labor, of this city, has had its charter revoked by the General Assembly for a violation of the constitution and by-laws of the order, and dissensions among its members. It now transpires that this was done a week or so ago when Mr. Cavanaugh, a member of the Executive Committee of the General Assembly was here. He was sent here to investigate the charges and took the charter away with him. The matter, however, has been kept quiet ever since.
